Management of Degradable & Non- Degradable Waste

Garden has been maintained in the collage premises. The campus of the collage is clean, beautiful, green and neat. Water as been arranged for the birds. For that clay pots are tied with the rope and everyday water is pored into them for the birds.

There are many Trees in the premise, and the mulch (leaves) of those trees and other disposable waste is collected and dumped in one of the Compost Pit. So, after the compost is made from this waste , it is fed to the trees planted in the garden ,it is good for the growth of the tress.

Since computers are used in college, computer application is taught to commerce students. College has computer laboratory. Parts of computers get damaged; these damaged spare parts replaced with the new ones. Old damaged spare parts (E-Waste)are collected and sold to authorize vendors for recycling. Similarly, batteries of UPS and Inverters are also deteriorates after a few days such damaged batteries are sold with e-waste . Old Newspapers and other waste paper are collected and sold to vendors for recycling.

Water Conservation Initiatives

'Rainwater Harvesting system' was established in college premises. The water accumulated on the college building roof is collected in the soak pit with the help of pipe. As a result, the Borewell located at the distance of 10 to 15 feet from the soak pit did not get dry even in summer days.

Another is that the water flowing from the colleges premises was collected at one place and stopped by a drain, it is called 'Check Dam' a stoppage for main water in college premises. This check dam was constructed under 'PANI ADWA PANI JIRWA YOJANA.' In this water accumulated and slowly seeps into ground.
